The debate competition was organised with the emphasis on the inevitability of learning the mother tongue in the context of the declining importance of language learning. Those in favour of the theme were of the opinion that mother tongue is very important in shaping a person's personality and thoughts. But the opponents also argued that even if the study of the mother tongue is necessary, it does not reach the point of inevitability. According to the new education policy, it was argued that language is not something that is imposed, but something that has to be chosen on an optional basis. Smt. Vidya R. Shekhar, Faculty, Department of Oriental Languages was the moderator in the discussion, which lasted for half an hour. The winner of the debate competition was decided by Sri ParthasarathiVarma. JerinJacob, final year MCA student of MACFAST College, Thiruvalla, was selected as the best performer. Reshma, Second year English and Media Studies student of Sri Ayyappa College won the second position. The team that spoke best on the topic was selected as the best team. Sri Parthasaradhi Varma who came as the judge opined that debate competition are not for arguing and winning, but for knowing, learning and imparting knowledge. He also pointed out the importance of language learning and the progress of language learning for the differentially abled. College principal Prof. Dr. Suresh distributed the prizes to the winners.
